This Year's Team the Best She Has Had -Tigers Undergoing a Gruelling Campaign-Quarter Back Bun Attracting More Attention-Practice of Elevens.

For the last three years Amherst has not failed to be a thornin the fiesh for some one of the so-called big teams. The strides which Amherst has made in football are worthy of comment. Year before last her eleven wiped up the ground with Columbia, last year it took a fall out of a no less famous foe than fair Harvard, and this year Columbia's scalp dangles at the Amherst belt, and the team thus far has not been scored on. Gould, the former Yale captain, took hold of the Amherst coaching in 1902, and with excellent results, and for the last two years Johnny Hart, also of Yale, has kept up the good work. Hart's material last year was none too good, so far as much sought after brawn is concerned, but the men played fine football for their physiques. The football spirit and administration of affairs at Amherst are now exceedingly good, whereas five years ago football was in a condition of slump. A football victory of note probably means more to Amherst than to some larger colleges— in mid-season, at any rate. For instance, the celebration, last Monday night, following he Columbia game, to keep the pot boiling. Mr. Ben Brine, who follows the doings of the football hosts with keen and experienced eye, says he believes that on last Sa turday Amherst could have taken the measure of any eleven in the East, that their form was nearer to finished than any of the others'. It is to be regretted that Amherst does not pit her strength against Harvard, Yale or Princeton; but she is to measure prowess with Dartmouth, and this game promises to be a hummer. The Amherst team plays hard football. Clean handling of the ball and the fact that the men keep going until the whistle blows are other qualities that have made the team a winner. Also there is helping of the runner, which does not cease simply because the runner may happen The backs strike the line hard and work in unison. The team is regarded the strongest that has sported the purple

If bad games insure improvement, Prince If bad games insure improvement, Princeton will be a greatly improved team for the wind-up, though buffeted en route. So far, however, the Tigers' journey has been anything but one of steady improvement. Possibly the somewhat erratic schedule has had something to do with this, but more likely the breaking in of comparatively green material to fill the places of the stars who have gone was the chief cause. The steadying and inspiring presence of DeWitt may be missed, yet the Jersey football leaders are too resourceful to suffer greatly from the loss of fine material when there is promising material to take its place. The campaign to date has certainly been gruelling, unexpectedly so once or twice, but it is a question whether the schedule is the best that could have been arranged for steady development. That is to say, games that looked easy have been interspersed with hard games. Following a stiff game with Dickinson and a stiffer one with Georgetown came a soft spot with Wesleyan, and following that one week a stiff game with Lafayette. Between the Navy and Cornell games comes a contest with Lehigh, which, on form, should not be hard enough to prevent a tendency to ease up—unless defeat has so stirred the Tigers that there will be no more of that.

has so stirred the Tigers that there will be no more of that.

Princeton's scoring to date has not been as extensive as her early season form indicated. That is the opinion of one who saw them beat Wesleyan 39 to 0 when they assuredly looked a scoring team. One cannot form very trustworthy deductions from one game, and an easy game in the bargain but the deductions such as they were were that the attack was stronger relatively than the defence, in which there was lack of concerted action. Following Lehigh come games with Cornell and West Point, games calculated to tune the team up to concert pitch for Yale, provided the men weather the two preceding storms all right. Old Nassau is in the dumps just now, but she is most dangerous when she seems most down in the mouth.

men back of the line must be outside the position occupied by the man on the end of the line, is the one that promises to be most fruitful. It is an awkward rule in that it puts one of the most available interferers on the wrong side of the line. In spite of this, its possibilities are being worked out, and diagonal tandem formations are being tried on it with a fair measure of success.

"There has also been a very considerable further development of shifting plays where the backs interchange positions with the line men on signal. These offer something for the study of coaches. The rule interferes somewhat with the protection of a kick. In the old rules of two years ago, a kicker could have practically four men protecting him and be almost certain to get his kick off without hurry and without much danger of the ball being blocked. Now any aggressive line can make trouble for a back on his punting more than was possible in the old rules; at any rate, those of two seasons ago. It is a question whether the public may not be pleased at an occasional blocked kick, but the men who play back of the line naturally do not like it."

The game that the New York 'varsity put up yesterday showed that the team is rapidly rounding into form. Practice was of the slam bang order—as soon as a man was hurt another was put in his place. It was by far the best afternoon's work this season. Fultz cut out all the usual preliminary work, and lined up the men for two thirty-minute halves. Cragin got the ball on the kick-off, and rushed it the entire length of the field for a touchdown. The 'varsity scored again a few minutes later by straight line bucks, varied with an occasional trick play. During the remainder of the practice the ball was given to the scrubs, in order to thoroughly try out remainder of the practice the ball was given to the scrubs, in order to thoroughly try out the 'varsity's defence.

The regulars held like a stone wall, and the second team could not gain an inchthrough the line, although they had an exceptionally strong back field. Raldiris and Reynolds were temporarily laid out, and thereafter the scrub backs found holes for several short gains through the substitutes. The prospects for the game with Trinity are the brightest this season.

AMHERST, Mass., Oct. 20.—On Saturday the Amherst team plays Brown University at Providence, and the chances are in favor of a victory for Amherst. A line-up was made yesterday for the first time since the Columbia game. Coggeshall is out of the game for two or three days with a sore foot, but will be back before Saturday. Biram, last year's captain and half back, is expected to join the squad in a day or two, and he will make a strong bid for his old position. He weighs 190 pounds, is a strong line bucker and a fast man behind the line. He will strengthen the team a great deal. In practice yesterday the second team lined up against the 'varsity, but were repeatedly thrown back for losses, while the 'varsity could go through the apposing line at will. Noble played full back on the 'varsity in place of Coggeshall. The team will leave for Providence to-morrow afternoon.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 20.—The Tigers' coaches opened the gates to the undergraduates to-day, and there was a big crowd out to see how the team had fared in the two days of secret practice. The exhibition given by the 'varsity, while an improvement over that of yesterday, was by no means of a kind calculated to encourage the spectators. In two hard halves of twenty minutes each the first eleven could score only 1 touchdown against an unusually weak acrub. The chief feature of the practice was the change in the 'varsity line-up. Ritter was at King's place at left half. Heim replacing him at quarter in the first period. Miller was shifted to full back, and Tooker held down right end. Carothers at centre completed the shake up of the season in the Tiger line-up. The new combination did not show up very well, though allowances must be made for a first appearance. Ritter, though built on the same lines as King, is by no means as strong a defensive player. He is not very fast in getting off with the ball, but in view of King's scrious injuries Ritter appears to be the only available man. This afternoon he made a few good gains, but there was nothing impressive in his work.

able man. The good gains, but there was nothing impression his work.

Miler played a fair defensive game, but he was away below formin advancing the leather, particularly on plunges through tackle. Carothers passed the ball well, but he was carried off the field with a badly wrenched ieg before he had a fair chance to show his ability. This injury is likely to prove a serious setback to the team, as Carothers is the only man who has shown any promise as a centre. Heim fumbled badly and was finally replaced by Terney, who played only slightly better. Altogether the afternoon's work was a distinct disappointment to the big crowd of students, and a hard game with Lehigh on Saturday is now looked for.

was a distinct disappointment to the big crowd of students, and a hard same with Lehigh on Saturday is now looked for.

On the eve of the football game with, Pennsylvania to-morrow Columbia has suffered two big losses that are likely to seriously cripple the Blue and White in the game with the Quakers. Tom Thorp, the big right tackle, and Metzenthin, the star quarter back, were the sufferers. The secret practice was held on American League Park. For more than an hour, behind closed gates, Morley sent the men along for a rattling fast scrimmage. The 'varsity showed better spirit and played with more snap and dash than in its previous work. The men got together better and were going along with great smoothness when Thorp was dragged from the bottom of a pile with a badly injured side. It was the same injury that he sustained in the Williams and Swarthmore games and has been causing him trouble all along. Morley is hopeful that "Tommy" will be able to get back in time to play to-morrow. Metzenthin had his ankle twisted while running back a punt. His injury is not so bad and the outlook is that it will not affect his playing to any great extent.

After the scrimmage work the players did some work in formations on kicking and the pairs of ends received their final drill in working down the field. Capt. Stangland made his first appearance of the week in football togs and looked a great deal better than when he left. He has had four days of complete rest from all worries and his face has filled out and he looks considerably in better shape. His presence was very encouraging to the team, and to his return can be attributed some of the improvement in the 'varsity's work.

From the work yesterday, Morley has been able to decide upon the probable make-up of the eleven that will face Pennsylvania when the whistle signals the start of the game to-morrow afternbon in Philadelphia. Post and Brown will be tackles and Stangland in back of the line, as he can be called from his position at any time to take the ball and as guard

The team will do a little light signal practice this afternoon and will leave early to-morrow on a special train for Philadelphia. About 500 students will accompany the eleven to the Quaker City and do their best to cheer the team to victory over the Red and Blue.

Carlisle, Oct. 20.—To-day's practice of the Carlisle Indian football team was light and consisted mainly of running down punts and lining up for signal practice. The team which will meet Harvard averages about 161 pounds and will be fast if dry weather prevails. The prospective line-up as announced to-night by Coach Rodgers is: Left end, Fremont; left tackie, Bowan; left guard, Dillon; centre, C. Kennedy; right guard, White; right tackle, Lubo; right end, P. Kennedy; quarter back, Libby; left half back, Capt. Sheldon; right half back, Hendricks; full back, Gardner.

Libby has put steam into the Redskins' playing in the last few days and he is expected to do fast work on Saturday. Twenty-eight substitutes will go to Boston with the eleven and all will be attired in a new school uniform with cavairy markings. The Esquimau, Schouchuk, and Little Old Man will go to Boston as second team men. Carlisle's strong points are her speed and good offensive work. Jude is on the sick list and was not in to-day's practice.

Annapolis, Oct. 20.—The Navy coaches are now very unsettled as to the back field. Not only did Douglass, the best back, break his leg in the Princeton game on Saturday but it developed to-day through the use of the X-ray, that Root, another back, had sustained a fracture of the small bone of the leg above the ankle. The two men are injured in almost exactly the same manner, and neither will play during the present season. The fact that Wilcox, quarter, is fumbling badly, still further adds to the coaching squad this week are Ensign Byron A. Long and Roger Williams, formerly of Navy teams and Burr Chamberlain of Yale.

Massau is in the dumps just now, but she is most down in the mouth.

The increased privilege of quarter back runs promises development, says Walter Camp in the Yale Aisman Weeking, anything of this kind, however, is slow, as plays the fully. This season it is attracting more than last year, it needs, however, a clower quarter, and, but thermore, concurs heasies about you will be bert which his padded to the line. New Haven, Oct. 20.—In the battle this afternoon between the 'varsity and the college team that was open to the public after a hard drill in secret practice, the college boys got a goal from the 'varsity's 20 yard line kicked by Werneken, a freshman from Detroit. All the 'varsity men were in the line, except Kinney, who had a day's rest. The score at the end of the scrimmage was 5 to 4, in favor of the 'varsity. Hoyt went into the scrimmage this afternoon for the first time in ten days. He has been out for a couple of days, punting. His back is still tender, but the chances are that he will go into the West Point game instead of Bowman. Rockwell, so it was stated this afternoon, will start in the game against the soldiers at quarter, remaining until Yale gets a line on West Point, and then Hutchinson will take his place. The Yale coaches want to save Rockwell as much as possible for the big college games. There is a tremendous interest here over the West Point game, and about 600 Yale men will take it in. Yale still clings to the notion that the team will come away with 2 touchdowns.

YOUNG CORBETT'S CAMPAIGN. Goes West to Meet Battling Nelson-To Fight McGovern and White.

Young Corbett is now on his way to California to start a busy fistic campaign. Everything has been arranged for his contem plated contest with Battling Nelson, who has been making quite a name for himself in the ring lately. The mill is to take place next month in San Francisco before the next month in San Francisco before the Hayes Valley A. C., which means that boxing is to be continued in San Francisco after all. The details of the encounter will not be known until Corbett reaches his destination. After this fight Corbett will come East and take on Terry McGovern for six rounds at Philadelphia. This mill has been practically settled. McGovern and Corbett will probably have it out during the first week in December, unless Corbett should meet with an accident. Following this fight Corbett will have Jabez White for an opponent. The Englishman has been communicated with and will depart for America before very long.

iong. In tackling Nelson, Corbett has a hard job before him. The former is one of the toughest propositions in the lightweight ranks to-day. But the Denver man is confident that he will win and will leave no stone unturned in order to get into the best possible fettle. Corbett says that if the White bout falls through and he is successful over Nelson he will immediately cast lines to secure an engagement with either Joe Gans or Jimmy Britt. Corbett was accompanied West by Harry Tuthill, who will act as second and trainer.

Oldfield Here for Auto Baces.

Barney Oldfield, who is to be the chief American contender in the international saturday, reached town yesterday with the car he is to drive that day. Announcement is made of the withdrawal by E. R. Thomas of the 90 horse-power car, which E. E. Hawley a Vanderbilt cup contestant, was to drive against Oldfield. Mr. Thomas said that the car, which has but recently been taken from the Custom House, was polyet in shape to show its best paces. This will leave the brunt of the battle against Oldfield to Paul Sartori and M. G. Berwin, who will pilot the 90 horse-power Fiat and Renault they drove in the Vanderbilt cup contest. The track was alive yesterday with entrants practising for the open events at the meet. Saturday, reached town yesterday with the

HORSE AND DRIVER EXPELLED Judges at Old Saugus Take Summary

Boston, Oct. 20 .- The three races carded for this afternoon at Old Saugus furnished some excellent sport. The day was perfect for racing and a large crowd was in attenddrivers and in the case of one, James Brodbine, owner and driver of the bay gelding Martindale, both owner and horse were expelled.

This summary action was taken because Brodbine refused to allow another driver to take his place after the horse had finished tenth in the first two heats of the 2:19 pac and seventh in the third. The judges thought the animal was capable of making a better showing, so they called Bredbine before them and said he would have to turn the horse over to Brusie for the fourth heat. Brodbine drove to the stable and refused to allow Martindale to be taken on the track again.

in the same race Lester Dore, driver of in the same race Lester Dore, driver of Count De Orsey, was accused of laying up in the first heat and was fined $100 after which the horse went out and took the next three heats and the race. The 2:08 pace had six starters, Phoson W. being the favorite and Terrill S. second choice. Darius treated the talent to a surprise party in the first heat by winning in a warm drive and also made good in the next twe, taking first money. Daniel had an easy time taking the 2:22 trot.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK.

SLOAN AND GARRISON CONFER AT THE LUNCH COUNTER. Both Overlooked Water Light, Winner of the First Race-Well Known Layer Wins One Dollar on the Second Event Griffin Fails to Back His Winners. Tod Sloan and Snapper Garrison climbed on stools in front of the lunch counter at Jamaica yesterday and began to compare notes before the first race. A betting commissioner brought them the prices, showing Handzarra an odds-on favorite. While the former jorkeys were deliberating a regular approached and asked Sloan what the liked.

"Esoutcheon will beat Handzarra," replied the only Tod. "That is to say, if she is right." "Heart's Desire can beat both of them," interposed Garrison, earnestly. "She is the best bet in the race."

"Well, that may be," said Sloan, as he turned to the betting commissioner. "But you can bet twenty-five on Escutcheon for me, just the same."

Then Sloan ordered a very large plate of pork and beans, and was apparently relishing them while the race was being run. The regular bet on Water Light at 10 to 1. The lack of big money in the ring was never more apparent than yesterday. The plungers have either quit for the season or have become tired of having their commissions refused by the nervous layers. One or the members of the "Mets" took in $241 on the second race, and paid out all but one dollar on the result. This comes pretty near being a record in the big ring.

H. T. Griffin won two races, with Canteen and Stolen Moments, but it was said that he did not bet on either of the fillies, believing that their chances for success were not par-ticularly good. It is not often that Griffin is caught napping, and after the two races he had a face so long that he looked a foot taller than usual There was a rumor during the afternoon that the wife of a well known bookmaker had lost $12,000 in her husband's name on Wednesday, and that the latter had gone to the wall. An investigation proved that the report was without foundation as far as the wife was concerned, but the layer, it was learned, was not booking, because of reverses, although his friends declared that he would be in line again to-day.

John Huggins, after a spell of filness, was able to visit the track yesterday.

Acefull, who carried H. B. Duryea's colors the English Derby last year, started for the English Derby last year, started for the first time in the colors of Archie Zimmer, Big Tim Sullivan's trainer, in the fifth race. "If he does not bleed," declared Zimmer, "he will breeze home!" And the Sullivan clan backed the colt accordingly. Accfull did not bleed, and finished far back in the

From an official source comes an emphatic denial of the story that C. J. Fitzgerald will be presiding steward on the Jockey Club tracks next season. There was as much as is to 1 against Water light at one time, but the colt was played all over the ring with small wagers, until he went down to 8 to 1, after opening at fives in the first quotations.

W. M. Barrick's Osgood was backed down from 20 to 1 to tens in the second race. Barfrom 30 to 1 to tens in the second race. Bar-rick was notified by the stewards that he would have to engage a regularly licensed trainer in future to handle his horses, unless he assumed the duties personally. Barrick has trained his own horses in the past, but has not been on hand upon several cocasions at saddling time.

Starter Fitzgerald suspended McCafferty for two days for running at the barrier. Fred Gebhard's Ragian was kicked at the post and Daisy Green was severely out down.

The Thomas-Shields combination bet heavily on Young Henry in the second race, and all of the clockers followed suit.

Since branching out as an ewner, W. A Stanton has not enjoyed much success with the horses trained by Sam Doggett. Yester-day he dropped a good bet on Funny Side. H. Phillips rode Rosetint in the third race with the blinkers strapped to his waist. Rosetint's defeat was the last straw for those who have been waiting all season for her to come to hand.

South Trimble, formerly owned by John A. Drake, ran in the colors of Davy Johnson, who bet on him liberally to win the fifth

The word was passed around before the bunch of smart money lowered his price from 6 to 1 to fours, but Stolen Moments upset the coup. At that, Lord Badge ran in vastly improved form, taking his previous races into consideration.

Willie Davis rode three winners, Canteen, Garnish and Stolen Moments. The Haymans got down some profitable wagers on Garnish, who showed a distinct form reversal. Goedwin's Official Turf Guide, Volume I., noluding data of all races run from January to July, has just been published.

Qualifying Bound in the Annual Fox Hills

Tour nament. Players were permitted to start at any time yesterday in the eighteen hole qualifying round of the annual tournament of the Fox Hills Gelf Club, so the couples were leaving the first tee at intervals until late in the afternoon, and there was at no time a cessation in the interest. The weather was delightful and in great contrast to thatvouchsafed for the tournament last year, when the rains so flooded the course that the match play had to be put off for a week. The committee, James G. Batterson, J. A. Janin, John M. Ward, G. R. Kelso, Charles Sparks and Arthur McAleenan, managed the affair very ward and Batterson did not return their cards, as neither could attend the tourna-ment to-day, and they did not want to dement to day, and they did not want to default at match play. There was a prize for the low score, won by W. B. Houghton with Si, and the first and second sixteens will begin this morning for the Fox Hills and the Clifton trophies. In the afternoon the beaten eight of the first sixteen will begin anew for the Southfield trophy.

WILL NOT FIGHT NEGROES. Jeffries Replies to That Effect to Jack Johnson's Challenge.

Jim Jeffries is out with a statement that under no circumstances will he deviate from his determination not to meet negroes. Jeff-ries took this step in view of the challenge of Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight, who wants to meet him. Johnson issue his defi to the boilermaker after he knocked out Denver Ed Martin in less than two rounds the other night.

Jeffries, who is now in the West, says

"I do not care whether Johnson licks the Japanese Army. I have repeatedly declared that as long as I am in the fighting business I will never make a match with a black man. The negroes may come and the negroes may go, and some of the negroes may be excellent fighting men. Just tell the public that James J. Jeffries has made up his mind that he will never put on boxing gloves to give battle to a negro. I might have admitted Jack Johnson's ability as a pugilist had I been at the ringside of his contest with Martin. I will go so far as to say that Johnson would be able to give a good account of himself were he in the ring with a man pounds and points better than the fellow he vanguarded the other night. But when Johnson applies to me for an engagament I will tell him in direct language to look for some one in his own class and color to give him a battle. I am against fighting black men first, last and all the time. Not because I am afraid—I leave that to the public to judge—but because I have said I won't and I intend to cling to my word. So that's all there is to it." the public that James J. Jeffries has made

ALL SORTS OF HELP CAME.

Just Then Bright Boy Pulled a Rope and the Help Wasn't Needed. Dominick Fucello of 90 Chrystie street. the elevator man in the five story loft building at 43 Bleecker street, pulled the controlling cable of the elevator yesterday afternoon and when the elevator came down got caught with one leg beneath it.

Then he sent up a cry for help. Some score of men employed on the first loft went to his assistance. One ran around to Police Headquarters and asked the assistance of the police. Another ran for a priest and another sent in a call to St. Vincent's Hospital for an ambulance. Two others telephoned a still call to a hook and ladder truck in Mercer street to come and cut the man out. All the time Fucello yelled that he was being squeezed to death All the assistance sent for arrived at the same time. Before any of them got to work a bright youth pulled the cable controlling the elevator. When it had gone up a few inches Fucello stepped out. His only injury was a squeezed leg. He went home. Some score of men employed on the first
